

About us:

PARS TEXON industrial engineering group is a subsidiary of PARS TEXON Corporation with decades of experience in the fields of industrial engineering and international trade.

Primary activities of PARS TEXON are technical textiles, protective equipment, and filtration with special focus on our international procurement capabilities.

Our group main concern is to provide the highest protection and quality of lift for our clients through our extensive international resources, expert management and staff by offering first class services. PARS TEXON s resources are comprised of companies with highest trading reputation and product quality which is second to none.

PARS TEXON guarantees our client with not only supplying the highest quality, but also first rate after market services so our clients can count on long-term cooperation with us.

